National Honor Society

NHS Officers, left to right: Kathi Sitterson, Secretary; Jeanette Jackson, Treasurer; Mike Will, Vice-President; Daisy Wallace, President.

The annual National Honor Society induction was held on November 17. Ten juniors and six seniors became NHS members. Rev. G. Daniel Jones was the guest speaker. A reception for the new members and their parents was held after the assembly. Honor society members served as tutors in a program sponsored by Academy Park Baptist Church, by helping students in grades two through six in reading, math, and social studies. The NHS sponsored a child at the Christmas Party, held a banquet in the spring, and awarded a scholarship to a deserving senior.

Class Motto: "Yesterday is just a memory the present will soon be gone, but for us, the future is just beginning."

Class Song: "If," by Benita Dean

If the days become nights,
Then we know we have to go on.
The years have gone by so fast,
We hate to see them pass.
If only four years wouldn't have come and gone,
You would brighten our days once again.
But we have to go on,
To see the different worlds.
And through the years we all have been together,
We loved so dear the time we spent.
And now we have to say our joyful good-byes,
We hate to leave our dear old school.
If we could only be here again
Through the halls we know so well,
The hours would be even more
Cherished by our love.
And through the years we all have been together,
We loved so dear the time we spent.
And since the time is now growing nigh,
We hate to leave our beloved Cradock High.

Class Poem: by Debbie Canady

For as long as we can remember,
We've never really been on our own.
But now as time brings us nearer,
You'll find that we have grown.
Onward we go together, following
That special light,
That brings us even closer
To graduation night.
You'll find a few of us happy,
You'll find a few of us sad,
You'll find a few remembering
The good things,
And a few remembering the bad.
It seems like only yesterday,
You could have heard us say,
That our education wasn't worth anything,
Not even worth a dime.
But I feel, as I'm sure the Class of 1977 does,
That our years here at Cradock,
Weren't a waste of time.
And so, now as we leave,
With memories long gone by,
We will always remember thee,
March onward CRADOCK HIGH!

Salutatorian: Kathi Sitterson

At the Rainbow's End

At the rainbow's end,
I'll give up trying,
But only if I've succeeded,
When the time comes,
I'll be there, even if
you say I'm not needed,
For people don't always say
the things they want to.
We hide behind our masks
and pretend.
We don't reach out because
we're too proud,
to share ourselves with
the rest of the crowd.
We measure ourselves
against one another.
Each is afraid he's not
as good as another.
I might fail, or I
might not measure up.
Few of us realize
everyone is different.
Yet we are all alike.
Each of us needs to be loved, wanted, and needed.
But most of all, to belong,
to be accepted as we are,
not as what we're expected
to be.
We need to be able to say,
I'm me and you're you.
This is my belief, but yours
isn't wrong.
My race is different,
but it's no better.
We are each in our own
world.
We each have our own
goals.
One day we'll find
them,
At the rainbow's end.
